Grade 4 Mars

Greetings once again!!! Second Semester is finally underway.

Quarter 2 was definitely a challenge with all of the time off, but hopefully things will seem a bit more settled for the remainder of the year. I am looking forward to a great 3rd and 4th quarter. Here is a glimpse of what is to come.

Math: Multiplication and division of large numbers. If your child is struggling in these areas make sure to spend some time reviewing the basic facts at home.

Science: We have finished our Life Science studies and we are moving on to Earth Science. We will be focusing on minerals and rocks and then we will be moving on to studying how the Earth's surface changes.

Social Studies: We will begin learning about the northeast region of the United States, focusing on things like immigration, big cities, and industrialization. For our Thai studies we will focus on Issarn.

Language Arts: This month we have focused on elements of grammar including lessons on irregular verbs, and the different types and adverbs. We will continue to work on our reading, handwriting, and spelling skills.
